

Young Energy Professionals Network

SUPPORTED BY THE BUSINESSNZ ENERGY COUNCIL

Hi Young Energy Professionals

The World Energy Council is calling for nominations for Future Energy Leaders to join their FEL – 100 programme. The Council's community of young professionals is a network of exceptional individuals from across the globe who represent the different players the energy sectors is composed of, including government, energy industry, academia, civil society and social entrepreneurs.

The Council's Future Energy Leaders' programme (FEL-100) is designed to help shape, inspire and grow energy leaders of tomorrow. It serves as a platform for engaging a limited number of ambitious young professionals in national, regional and international activities and events. The objective is to inspire participants to become the next generation of energy leaders capable of solving the world's most pressing challenges regarding energy and sustainability. FEL members have the opportunity to attend local and international events – your employer will need to support your participation.

You will get in contact with energy leaders from around the world, work on international projects and NZ workshops.

The nominations to the World Energy Council will be made in New Zealand by the Business Energy Council. The Business NZ Energy Council (BEC) is looking for someone:

- with a solid interest and proven track record in energy; the CV indicates a specific achievement and the potential to become a leader in the energy sector
- who holds a bachelor's degree or higher.
- who has a minimum of 3 years full-time post-graduate or professional experience in an energy-related field.
- is highly motivated and encouraged to work with the World Energy Council, and ready to show commitment to become a member of the exclusive FEL-100 and remain engaged for at least one up to typically three years
- has an advanced level of English as the programme and all communications will be delivered in English.
- He/she must not be more than 35 years old at the time of application.

If you are interested please provide your CV and a short personal statement detailing your background, experience and skills and explaining how it relates to the World Energy Council and the FEL Programme objectives (max 500 words) to jenny.lackey@eeca.govt.nz or yepn@bec.org.nz by MONDAY 13 FEBRUARY 5pm.